

Table of Contents

1. INTRODUCTION	1
Sophie Bourgault and Elena Pulcini
EMOTIONS AS MOTIVATIONS AND SOURCES OF KNOWLEDGE: CRITICAL RETURNS, FEMINIST OVERTURES
2. What emotions motivate care?	15
Elena Pulcini
3. The work of emotions	37
Fabienne Brugère
4. Love, gender and moral sensibility: a political (his)tory	57
Patricia Paperman
EMPATHY, PITY AND SYMPATHY: CRITICAL REASSESSMENTS
5. Care between sympathy, imagination and humility	73
Caterina Botti
6. Rethinking the moral importance of empathy	93
Monika Betzler
7. Affective coexistence. Pity as a connection between emotion and ethical knowledge	115
Inge van Nistelrooij
8. Care and birth. Emotional sharing as the foundation of care relationships	137
Guido Cusinato

CARE FOR THE SELF AND FOR OTHERS: PHENOMENOLOGICAL AND SOCIOLOGICAL PERSPECTIVES

9. Affective self-understanding: a means to the care for the self	167
Luigina Mortari
10. Care as attentiveness: Weilian reflections on the affective and cognitive dimensions of care	191
Sophie Bourgault
11. Existence, care and emotions	211
Vincenzo Sorrentino
12. Emerging emotions and empathy maps amongst migrant care-workers in three cities in central Italy	231
Rossana Trifiletti
CONTRIBUTORS	255
INDEX	261